BRADLEY FALK, SPIRITUAL HEALER AND MODERN MERLIN, MEETS WITH ACADEMY-AWARD-WINNING PRODUCER TO STRATEGIZE
UPCOMING DOCUMENTARY/TELEVISION SERIES

Tampa, Florida—Bradley Falk www.BradleyFalk.com, an acclaimed spiritual healer/teacher and author, begins work on a documentary film entitled Dying Well. Falk created the concept and the film will give account of one of the most intimate areas of his work as a healer. After the feature-film-length documentary is produced, it will serve as a pilot for a reality-based television series.

Dying Well will document Bradley Falk creating a sacred space around individuals with terminal illnesses, empowering them to travel toward their passing with purpose, poise and peace.

Bradley Falk met face to face with Academy Award winning producer, and medical doctor, Todd Wider in New York. After meeting with Falk, Wider stated, “I am interested in producing this project.” Wider was the executive producer of Taxi To The Dark Side, which won the Academy Award for Best Documentary of 2008, a controversial film about prisoner abuse in Afghanistan and Guantanamo Bay. Wider, along with his brother Jedd, have produced many other films that have raised social awareness.

“This project,” states Falk, “has revealed that we’ve created something explosively important. Just days after being struck by the idea—in fact, I had not yet even completed the treatment—I had Todd Wider and two other producers waiting for it. Todd read it, and we met him in New York within a week.”

Falk has recently released Guided Passage: Become Who You Are (comprised of a hardcover book and audio CD). It is a private session in a box and encompasses 30 plus years of experience accompanying individuals as they travel through the foundational beliefs which have kept them stuck and are at the core of their suffering.
